CHEVRON DONATES NEARLY $150,000 THROUGH EAGLES FOR EDUCATION

- During Nature Valley First Tee Open at Pebble Beach -

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: July 19, 2011

Pebble Beach, California – Chevron’s Eagles for Education (EFE) generated nearly $150,000 in added revenues for The First Tee program during the recently concluded Nature Valley First Tee Open at Pebble Beach. Champions Tour pros carded a total of 13 eagles for the week: four on Friday, four on Saturday and five on Sunday.

Because Chevron believes there is no single solution to improving education in California, this donation highlighted Chevron’s commitment to education with all proceeds from EFE benefitting the learning center at The First Tee of Monterey County.

Each eagle on Friday and Saturday was worth $8,000 and on Sunday it was doubled. All in all the funding will allow over 350 kids to participate in The First Tee program for a year.

In addition to donating money, Chevron is also launched the Eagle’s Nest, a dedicated hospitality area on the 18th hole of Pebble Beach Golf Links, which hosted over 450 kids and chaperones during tournament week.

“What Chevron has done for The First Tee participants throughout northern California is immeasurable,” states Barry Phillips, executive director of The First Tee of Monterey County. “We teach these kids to set goals and most of them would never have even dreamed of going to Pebble Beach to watch the Champions Tour pros, many of whom are in the World Golf Hall of Fame. In addition the generous donation will enable us to continue to impact hundreds of lives and expose these kids to the tremendous values the game of golf has to offer,”
